WOFFORD

Foreword

There comes a time in the affairs of every man, almost inevitably, when he comes to realize that he is approaching the termination of an era in his particular life. This is especially applicable to the present generation of college men. When we consider the fact that we are on the threshold of entrance into a new and different world, in many ways opposed to the manner of living which has been ours during the past, this realization may become somewhat brutal. Though our situation may not be entirely different from that faced by our predecessors, we are confronted by an international situation possessing possibilities for good and evil which are absolutely devastating. The responsibility for the outcome will ultimately be ours. Therefore, as we depart upon our separate ways, we should muster all the courage we have available within us, confront the future with confidence, and exercise all the influence for good of which we are capable.

When we have established ourselves in this new realm, there will arise, it is anticipated, an occasional desire to pause for memories of the old and bygone. We have recorded on the pages of this book what we hope to be a fairly adequate representation of the events of a year in our history—the history of Wofford College and the men who make her great.

To make this possible the energy of many men has been required. So I here extend my heartfelt gratitude to the staff of the 1959 BOHEMIAN, to Mr. R. H. Willis, photographer, and to the entire student body, without whose cooperation our efforts would have been futile.

Now let us peruse this portion of our past.

DEAN SAMUEL
FRANK LOGAN

Dean Logan graduated from Wofford College in 1941 with an A.B. degree. In 1947 he returned to Wofford as Registrar, Director of Admissions, and Associate Professor of History. In September, 1956, he relinquished his job as registrar and assumed the duties of Dean of Students.

education

We, the staff of the 1959 BOHEMIAN, take much pride in dedicating this issue to Dean Samuel Frank Logan. His incessant contributions and his personal ideals have been an inspiration to each of us at Wofford College. His numerous and unequalled abilities, the willingness with which he has rendered his service, the encouragement he has given us, and his admirable character make him a person whose memory we shall always cherish.

Dean Logan is married to the former Miss Madeline Ward of Buffalo, New York. They have two children, Lee Ward, 14, and Laura, 8.

Dr. Charles F. Marsh, President

THE PRESIDENT

Dr. Charles F. Marsh, Seventh president of Wofford College, is a native of Antigo, Wisconsin. He received the degree of Bachelor of Arts cum laude from Lawrence College, Appleton, Wisconsin, in 1925, where he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa. In 1926 he received the Master of Arts degree from the University of Illinois and in 1928 the Ph.D. degree from that university. While at Wofford Dr. Marsh has distinguished himself and added dignity to the college.

In 1928 Dr. Marsh married Miss Chloro Nancy Thurman, who also graduated from Lawrence College with Phi Beta Kappa honors. They have a son, John Charles Marsh, who is an honor graduate of the College of William and Mary and is now a senior at Yale Medical School, and a daughter, Nancy Marian Marsh, who is a sophomore at Lawrence College.

Board of Trustees

The South Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church appoints the members of Wofford's Board of Trustees each year. This year's board, under the capable direction of Mr. J. Grier Hudson, was enthusiastic in its task of providing the best possible in Christian higher education. Through regular meetings and through its committees the board has provided sound counsel to the President in the implementation of an educational development program and has handled numerous other problems of which the student is totally unaware. We extend our sincere congratulations and hearty thanks to these men for their unending work for Wofford.

The Faculty

The responsibility of teaching is no trifle and in college a great deal of learning takes place under the guidance of the professor. He tries to enlighten his students about his subject through the more complete understanding he has of the subject. But more valuable than any particular subject is what the professor teaches the student about himself, for that's what really helps a person grow into maturity.

At Wofford it is in this distinguished faculty that scholarly education has its life. We gratefully acknowledge our debt to these men.

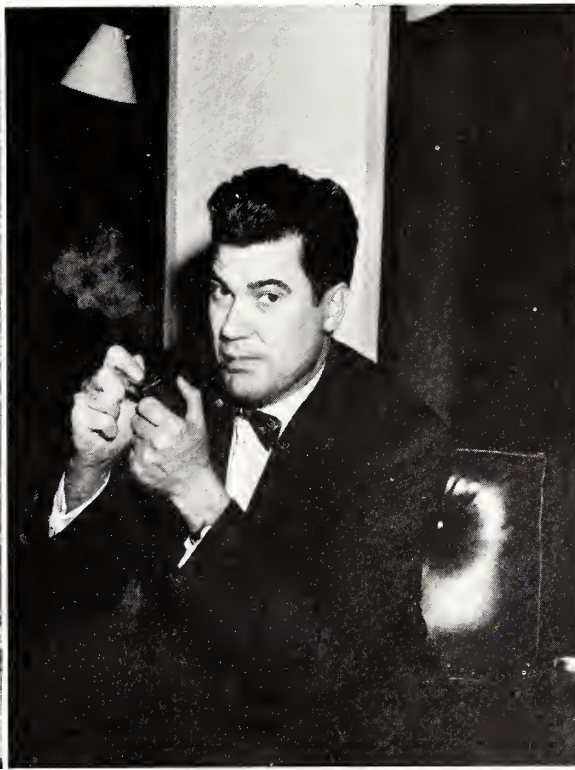

BIOLOGY

The Biology Department, headed by Dr. Leonard, offers courses of value to students of any major. To those majoring in fields other than Biology, courses such as botany and zoology give the student a good background in these natural sciences. Students of biology are offered a wide range of courses designed to give training in careful and accurate observations, to give insight into the fundamental laws of life and to familiarize the students with many of the common aspects of nature.

CHEMISTRY

The course of study in the department involves both theoretical and practical work.

ECONOMICS, BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The Economics and Business Administration Department tries to give the student of business an understanding of the organization and underlying principles of the economic life. The department, under the direction of Dr. Kenadjian, also offers many advance courses which further acquaint the student with the problems and principles involved in banking, public finance, marketing, business law, and international trade. At various times in the year students are taken on trips to banks and industries to get a first hand view of the things that they have been studying. In this department the student has a fine opportunity to prepare to take his place in the business world and in the administrative field.

EDUCATION AND PSYCHOLOGY

The Department of Education and Psychology, headed by Professor Britt, serves a two-fold purpose. The education courses are designed to give the student seeking a profession in public school teaching, a strong background in techniques of teaching, and the various theories behind the public school curriculum. Education courses are also valuable themselves to those preparing for educational work in churches, social work, and college teaching.

Courses in psychology offer the students an opportunity to familiarize themselves with the principles of psychology, and the application of those principles to daily living. The study of psychology is also valuable to the student preparing himself for teaching, law, medicine, the ministry, and social work.

ENGLISH

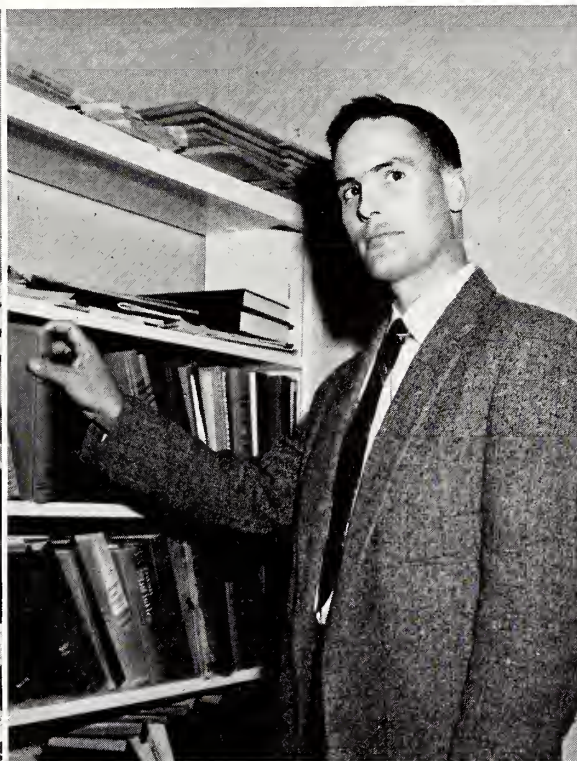

The Wofford College Department of English has as its chairman Doctor Harris Chewning.

It is the aim of these men to teach proficiency in using, speaking, and writing the English language, and to stimulate an interest in and understanding of our literary heritage.

HISTORY

In the History Department under Dr. Cauthen, the student has required and elective courses designed to enrich his understanding of his own American heritage as well as to provide him with the great historical events and traditions that make up the basic background in the history of Western Man. Careful study of South Carolina history and the history of the South itself gives the student a clearer vision in understanding those peculiarly Southern problems, while courses in Ancient, English, and European history give a wider appreciation of the total world situation in its many complexities.

MATHEMATICS

Under the guidance of Dr. Hill, the Mathematics Department gives the student an opportunity to study thoroughly calculus, solid analytical geometry, differential equations and vector analysis in the advanced courses. Students are required to study in the basic math courses trigonometry, quadratic equations, and the binomial theorem, among other things. The most important aspect of this department is probably the training it gives in clear and precise thinking through the analyzing of mathematical problems. This training is invaluable in a world that sorely needs clear thinking.

APPLIED MATH

The Applied Math Department is oriented to give the student a general background in the fields of mechanical drawing, electricity, and surveying. The instruction is composed of both lecture and laboratory sessions with special emphasis being given to farm surveying, terracing, and blue printing.

MILITARY SCIENCE

For thirty-eight years Wofford College has had an active Reserve Officers Training Corps. In 1953 the Wofford detachment was given the General ROTC rating in place of the strictly Infantry program. The purpose of this department is to train Wofford men through a four-year program, which includes a six-weeks summer training period, to be commissioned in the United States Army Reserve.

Colonel Edward Maddox was Professor of Military Science and Tactics this year for the first time.

MUSIC AND ART

In the Music and Art Department under Professor Moyer, the student is introduced to the technical aspects of these two fields, and is encouraged to understand the relationship music and art have to the world at large. Attention is given to the historical traditions and the more important creative personalities associated with these fields. Problems in art are related to the experiences of real life and to human needs. In music the student is directed in the art of good listening. This department is designed to make the student more sensitive to the culture of his world.

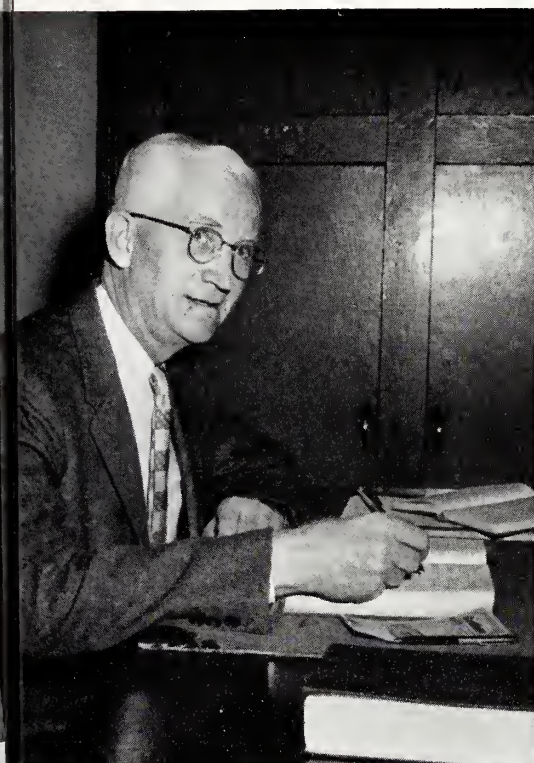

PHILOSOPHY

This department is directed by Dr. Colloms and offers a wide variety of courses designed to acquaint the student with the fundamental ideals of philosophy in the life and thought of the Western world. Through the study of philosophy, it is hoped that the student will be able to build for himself a personal philosophy of life. It is an important aim in this study that the student understand the value of having a significant philosophy of life.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

In this department, the emphasis is on promoting health, growth, and development of the body. Activities such as volleyball, tumbling, basketball, football, and others are made available to a student. Advanced courses prepare the student for teaching physical education and coaching in a high school. The department is headed by Professor Scheerer.

DR. C. C. NORTON
PROF. HOWARD M. PEGRAM

PHYSICS AND GEOLOGY

This department is headed by Professor Parker, and in it the student has an opportunity to study such aspects of physics as heat, wave motion, electricity and light. Advanced courses provide a study of geology, navigation and theoretical physics. The splendid rock and fossil collection at Wofford make the geology classes interesting, as it serves to demonstrate the information that is talked about in class.

PROF. WILLIAM A. PARKER
PROF. DAVID H. PRINCE

RELIGION

The Religion Department provides both comprehensive and intensive Bible study. It presents an opportunity to become acquainted with the basic areas of religion as foundations for a better understanding of the Christian faith and its practice among college students.

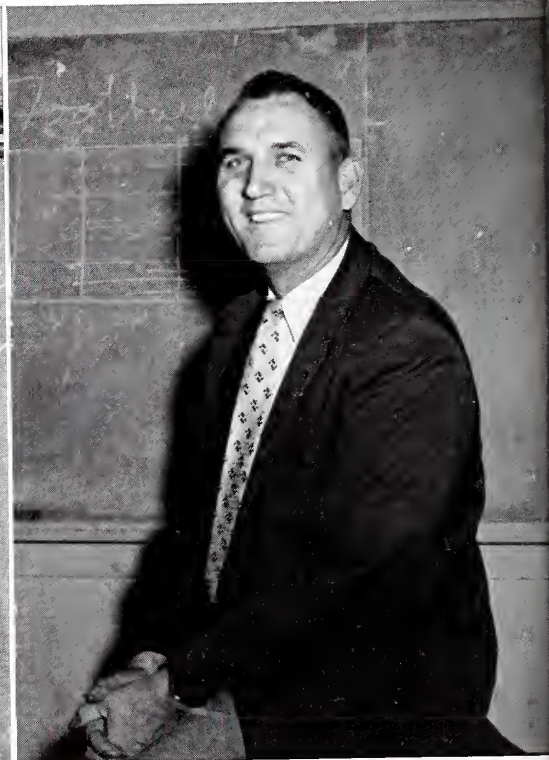

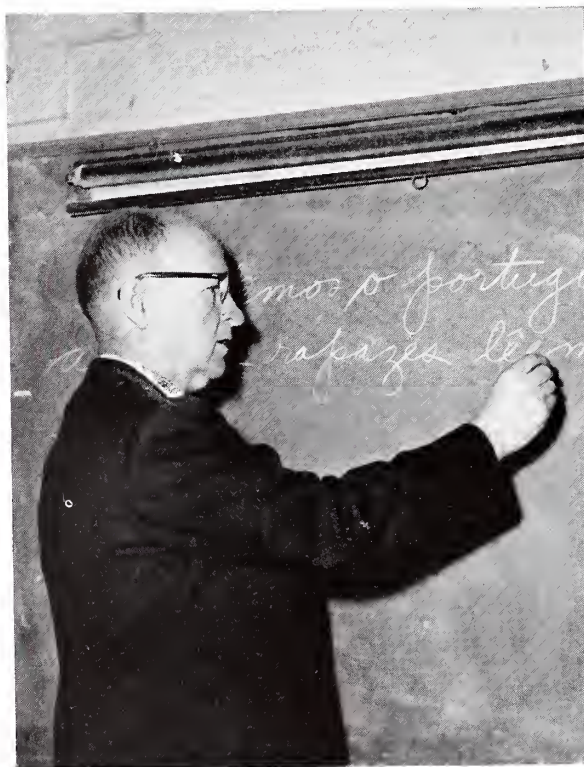

Moreover, the object kept in view is to discover and acquire the historical values as well as the philosophical principles which are fundamental in all offerings of the department. Dr. C. F. Nesbitt heads this department.

SOCIOLOGY AND GOVERNMENT

The Department of Sociology is designed to give the student a thorough background of the theories, development, structure, and functioning of social institutions, along with an introduction to some of the practical applications of the social sciences as found in human relations. The student is also introduced to some of the modern techniques of research as a part of the scientific method. Dr. Norton heads this department.

UNDER THE SPEEDY SYSTEM of the Student Council.

Registration Day

"There Must Be A Better Way" would be an appropriate title for this painfully necessary event. It is not the lines, nor the noise, nor the teachers that make registration so great an ordeal . . . though those things all combine to have an effect on the pleasant, even-tempered radiance of the Wofford gentlemen. There is something about nearing the end of the line only to be told a certain section is no longer available, and to start changing that schedule in order to take something else. It is an ill-starred fate for any struggling student.

Yet this is one time when it is most completely true that all Wofford suffers together. Even the teachers. Maybe in the near future registration day will not be such a headache.

I DON'T CARE how much you beg, you still get a "D."

Ratting

The period of ratting will always remain sacred to the freshman's heart. The ratting program was wholeheartedly accepted and effectively put to use in teaching the freshman new ways in his new life.

The first step of his new life began when he placed upon his head the little ornament called a rat-cap. This cap was to be worn at all times in all places.

RETALIATION after ratting has officially ended.

IT TAKES A LOT of pull to make men out of rats.

THE KA'S gather 'round to display some of the traditions of the Order.

Rushing

"Rushing is the legal manner by which fraternities shall secure new members to their organizations." Few decisions are as important in a college man's life as his choice of a fraternity.

Rush week to the freshmen is a hectic and confusing time climaxed by the unforgettable pledge day. To the upperclassman rush week is a nerve racking and suspenseful period during which "his best foot must be forward at all times."

THE "PI KAPS" are in good form as they show the rushees some selling points.

THE "KAPPA SIG MEN" enthusiastically greet rushees at the door.

A GROUP of prospective pledges enjoy those S.A.E. "cokes."

"ALPHA SIG" smiles and cigars are plentiful as fraternity futures are pondered.

One of the social highlights of the year, rush week is keynoted by parties, smokers, pretty girls, "frat talk," and questions. But it is also a week of forming many new and lasting friendships. It is a time when freshmen and upperclassmen get to know each other, and ties are made with the future.

Homecoming

Homecoming—a good day for students as well as the “alums.”

Miss Mary Sims Gressette of Orangeburg was selected 1958 Homecoming Queen to succeed the retiring Queen, Miss Carolyn Turner.

The dance after the ball game featured Sam Cooke and The Keynotes, adding a different atmosphere to the affair. Friday night was the big affair featured by Tony Torre and his orchestra, and a good time was had by all.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon captured the display award by giving us the old “houseboat” effect. There was a slight change over the past years and each fraternity had a display in front of their respective houses.

(Bottom): TAKING a breather.

As a prelude to our Christmas holidays, the dance association, under the leadership of chairman Ernie Ray Ouzts, secured the original Jimmy and Tommy Dorsey Orchestra under the leadership of Lee Castle, for the annual Winter Ball in the Memorial Auditorium. As an added attraction the Crew Cuts, a famous popular singing group, gave us a lot of their originals.

To the mellow music of Dorsey, everyone danced 'til the clock struck twelve. Climaxing the evening the gents and their dates stopped by their fraternity lodges for an early morning snack. Oh, what a beautiful morning!

The beautiful decorations which covered the auditorium and the Christmas spirit added an atmosphere for the holidays to come. The music by Dorsey has been replaced by the songs of spring itself, but for many the melody is the same.

The Wofford College Dance Association

This past year can go down as the most successful year as far as dances are concerned. The Dance Association, under the capable leadership of Ernest Ray Ouzts, gave the Wofford students a wide variation of fine dances.

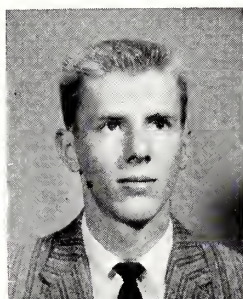

The Winter Ball, Saturday night dances—all of these were splendid. The dances after the games were different and prizes were given as a bonus attraction. Sam Cooke and the Keynotes furnished the music during homecoming. The original orchestra of Jimmy and Tommy Dorsey plus the Crew-Cuts enabled the students to enjoy a wonderful evening at the Winter Ball.

The Dance Association reached an all time high this year and 350 members were recruited. In the past, money was the problem but this year $2,100.00 was available.

Many thanks should be given to Mr. Ouzts and his staff for a very successful year.

The cadets and their dates spent an enjoyable evening dancing to the music of the Gladiolas. Their wide range of selections of popular tunes added to the pleasure of the crowd.

The evening was highlighted by the crowning of Mrs. Judy Turner as Miss Scabbard and Blade. Judy is the wife of Don Turner.

Life in the Dorm

Dormitory life has been described, not inaccurately, as similar to living in a second rate hotel during a Shriners' Convention. This thumbnail description may be ungenerous but the accusations contained in it are not altogether unfair.

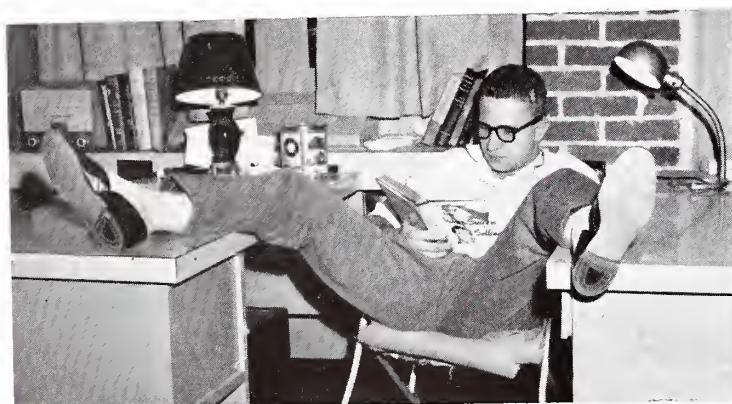

To the new student freshly arrived in college the communal conditions under which he has to live may appal him, but after he has learned to sacrifice his individuality to some degree and become as one with the mass, which is the American ideal, he learns there are several genuine advantages to be learned from dormitory life.

The dormitory student is the possessor of a freedom which, though it has never been defined in a bill, includes the right to fail out of school and the right to sleep late on Sunday morning, both of which are fiercely defended and exploited to the fullest.

The greatest advantage to be gained by the dormitory student is to lead his life of "quiet desperation" in peace and harmony with his fellow man and learn to appreciate him—and endure him.

Glee Club

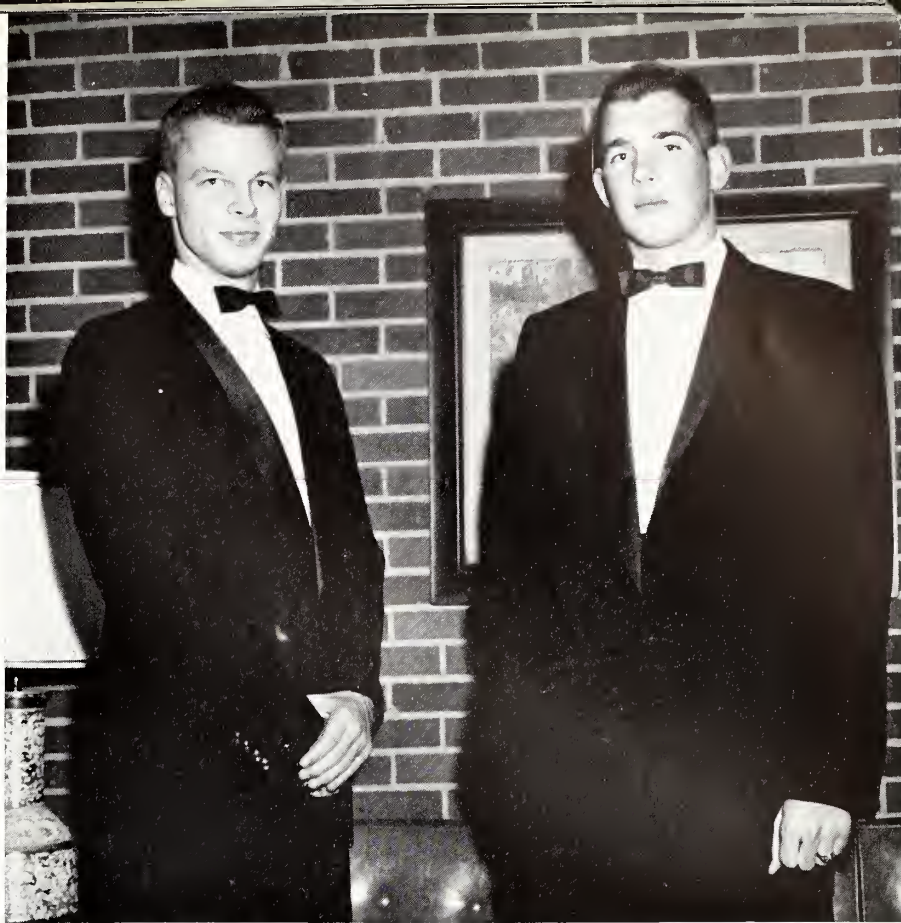

As is the custom each year the Wofford College Glee Club, composed of a select group of young men who love music, sang its way into the hearts of many, many people throughout our state last year. The season was ended with its annual home concert presented in Spartanburg.

The profound success of the Glee Club is due largely to the understanding and hard work of Professor Sam Moyer. Moyer's men combine sacred and secular music in a way to please and thrill any audience.

Outstanding work contributed by the accompanists, Collegiates, and the Aristocrats and announcers always add greatly to the fine showmanship of the group.

Band

In the understructure of every college many essential jobs are performed that go virtually unobserved except on special occasions. Such is the job performed by our band.

The band represents the college through visits to other cities, ball games, and various school activities.

This year "the men in blue" proudly upheld the traditional appearance, and fine music that the Moyer groups are known for.

In addition to regular band duty, many of the members also serve in the R.O.T.C. band which performs for all military ceremonies.

The American Chemical Society

The A.C.S. here at Wofford is an affiliate with the national organization. Its charter was obtained in 1949.

The main project of the society is the annual chemistry fair which attracts many persons. The fair is presented in an attempt to further acquaint those interested with advances in the world of chemistry.

Programs are presented bi-monthly by members and guest speakers. Field trips are also a part of the yearly functions.

The organization is under the direction of Dr. J. C. Loftin.

The Pre-Medical Society

The Pre-Medical Society was organized for the purpose of acquainting the pre-medical students with the field of medicine and furthering their interest in the profession. Lectures by prominent persons in the fields of medicine, surgery and dentistry feature the bi-monthly meetings.

Membership in the society is composed of sophomore, junior, and senior pre-medical and pre-dental students.

The society was reorganized second semester of last year after a lapse of several years of inactivity.

Debate Team

During the academic year, the Wofford College debate teams represented the college well in several intercollegiate tournaments.

The debate teams are an important part of the extra-curricular activities in that they furnish valuable experience to pre-law students, ministerial students, and also those interested in current affairs. The debate activities fill the gap left by the now defunct literary societies, which were important parts of the college during its early years, by providing verbal dueling grounds for collegiate orators.

The Bohemian

It has been said that the preservation of memories through pictures, has been the greatest single benefit derived from photography. The truth of such a statement is fairly obvious to the college student and will become more and more evident with the passing of time.

Embodied in the Wofford BOHEMIAN is, we hope, a storehouse of such memories. It has been our purpose to present in pictures and writings the events, both big and small, that have occurred during the school year.

The BOHEMIAN is published annually by the student body. The 1959 staff wishes to express its gratitude to everyone involved for the excellent cooperation received.

The Old Gold & Black

Wofford's weekly newspaper, the Old Gold and Black, continued to serve as "voice of the campus."

Included in its pages were columns, features, sports stories, pictures, cartoons, news stories and editorials.

The paper made an effort to become more widely read and effectual by making deliveries to boarding students in their dorms.

A new President and family on campus, Little Four Basketball Championship, a new science building, and a new cut system were lead news stories of the year.

Columns on the establishment and validity of an honor system, student discontent, and campus religion were centers of interest found on page two of the paper.

The Old Gold and Black, a product of a few concerned students, serves the entire student body.

The Journal

The Journal is the leading literary magazine of Wofford College. Its appearance five times a year furnishes an opportunity for the student body to exercise their creative talent.

In its heart of hearts the Journal aspires to intellectual preeminence and creative dominance among the literary magazines of Southern schools. This idea pales, however, under the withering glare of reality; so the Journal accepts, not altogether passively, the consequences of the limited dream and strives to reflect as honestly (and as selectively) as it can the creative thinking of Wofford—and as an indicator of the general level of literary enthusiasm the Journal has long been recognized as an excellent if unwavering barometer.

The Publications Board

The Publications Board of Wofford College is composed of four faculty members and four students. The board has financial control over the financial policies of all student publications and is always available to advise the staffs of the publications in any way. The board also elects editors and business managers for the various publications. Not a board of censorship, its primary purpose is to maintain the existence of the student publications. Under the chairmanship of Dr. L. H. Chewning, this year's board has continued its policy of service to the student body in insuring the continuance of the three periodicals under its supervision.

PHI BETA KAPPA

For over a century and a half, election to Phi Beta Kappa has been a recognition of intellectual capacities well employed, especially in acquiring an education in the liberal arts and sciences.

Phi Beta Kappa was founded December 5, 1776, at William and Mary, in Williamsburg, Virginia. It was the first society to have a Greek letter name. From that small beginning in one of the cradles of the American nation and in its transplantation to another cradle of the nation, the colleges of New England, the society has spread out and covered the entire nation and become one of the most honored societies in the world. Over one hundred and fifty chapters are now in existence.

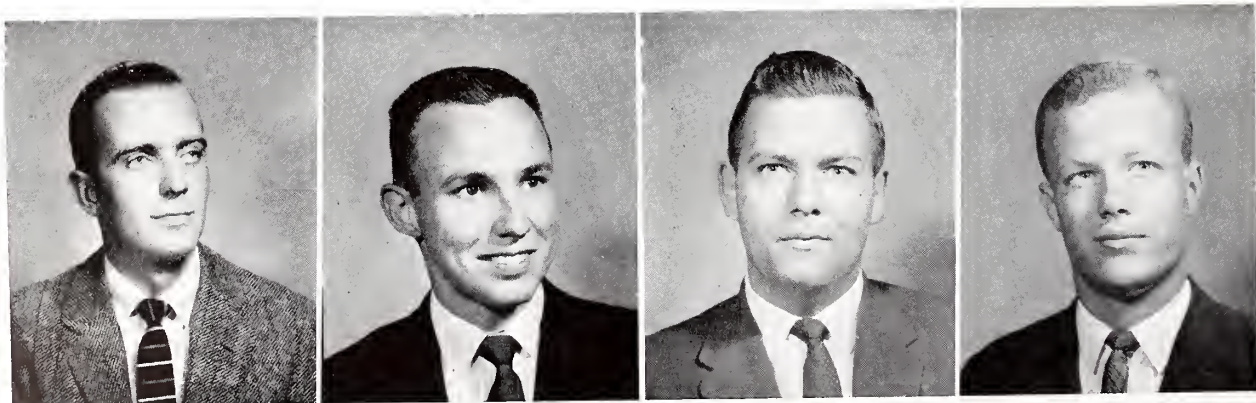

The Wofford Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, Beta of South Carolina, was chartered in January of 1941. The charter was granted to the holders of the key who were officially connected with the school at the time. It is one of two chapters in the state—the other at U.S.C. During the past decade, the local chapter has held firmly to the high ideals and purposes for which Phi Beta Kappa was founded.

Each year, the Senior Order of Gnomes, recognize as Wofford's highest honorary group, brings together the most outstanding and influential members of the Senior Class. Varying from three to five over the years, members of the Order are selected for outstanding leadership ability and wide participation in college activities. The group is itself perpetuating, as graduating members of the Order select outstanding members of the Junior Class for this honor. This year Blue Key is headed by Marvin O'Neal as President, A. V. Huff as Vice-President, and William Bradford as Secretary-Treasurer.

Each year Blue Key carries on many worthwhile projects for the school. As is only natural, Blue Key members are found in high positions on all of the publications, as class officers and all of the honorary organizations.

Coaches

Even though the potential of an athletic team is great, without the skill, knowledge, and understanding of the coaches it is nothing. Besides being able to teach the fundamentals and rules of the game the coaches must maintain a close relationship with the players. The coaches must also see that their players are capable of representing the school as far as conduct on and off the playing field is concerned.

The Terriers are fortunate in having a staff of coaches that fulfill these obligations. The abilities of our coaches has been well proven as they guided the football team through thick and thin. We are proud of the fine staff of gentlemen on hand to direct our 1958-'59 athletic teams.

The Cheerleaders

"BEAR" SHAW
Head Cheerleader

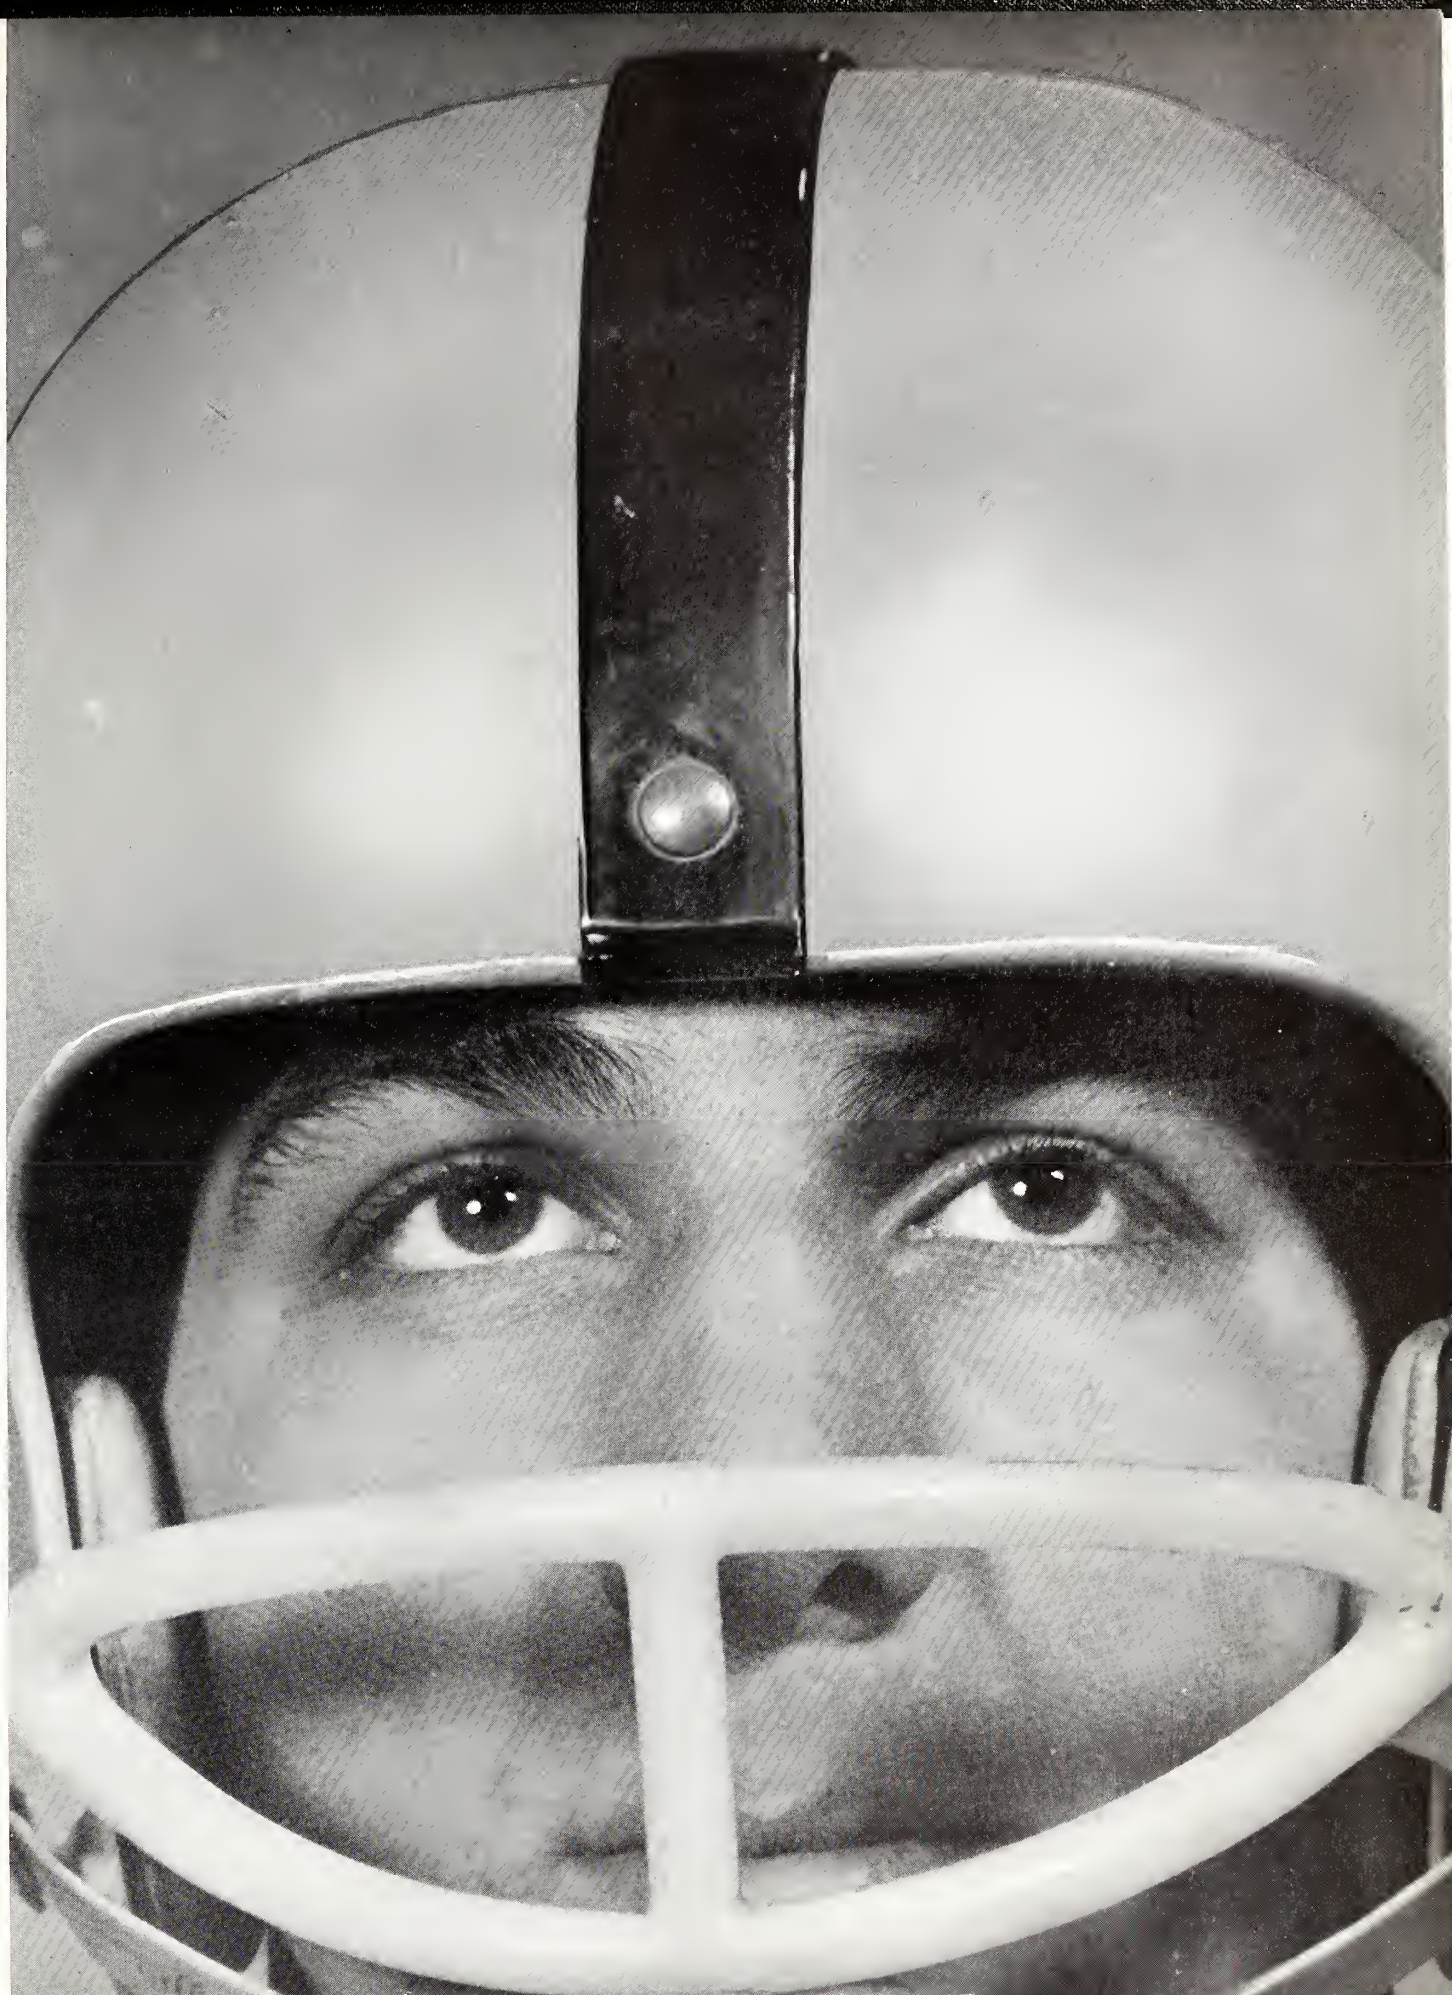

Chief cheerleader Ebbie "Teddy Bear" Shaw assembled his cohorts early this year and from the first fair day in September an all-out verbal attack was staged. The spirit of the Terriers remained at a high level as the cheerleaders romped and stomped before the Wofford student body.

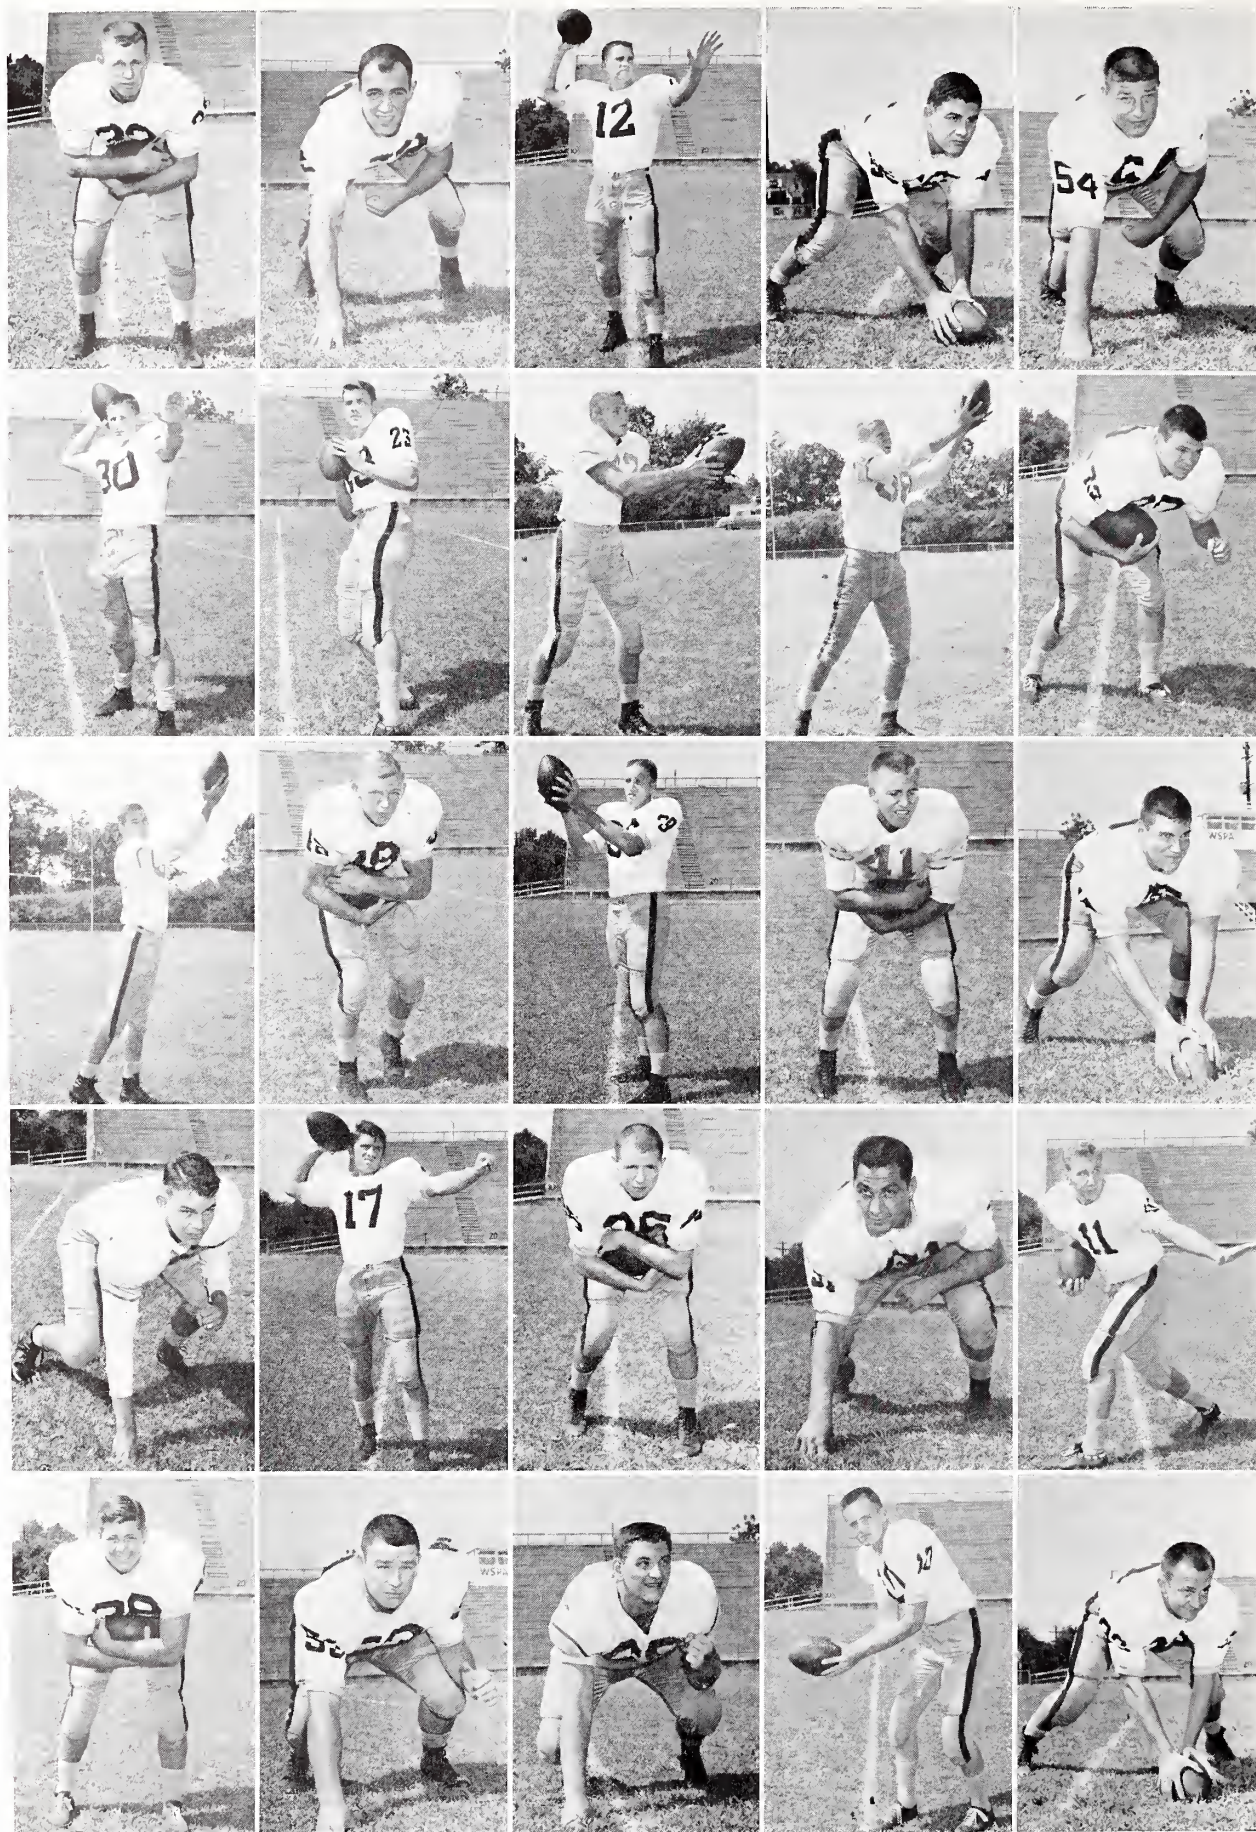

Six lovely ladies from Converse were selected to add spice to the cause. These included Betsy Snyder, Jane Jackson, Jo Carr, Lou Trogden, Ruthlee Philips, and Betty Ann Land.

Even though Billy Brickle was the only other returning veteran, Doane James, Dickie Adkins, and Hurst Marshall proved that they too could "juke it" as well as anybody.

So from the season's opening kick-off until the last play of the year Wofford was fortunate to have such a group of cheerleaders to create interest and enthusiasm at the games.

• WESTERN CAROLINA 15

Asheville, N. C., was the scene of battle as Wofford's untested Terriers christened the 1958 season with a 29-15 decision over a stubborn but out-manned Western Carolina eleven.

The Terriers started the season on a note of brilliance with their Little All-American pass combo of Bradshaw-Richardson clicking for a 60-yard touchdown on the first play from scrimmage.

Wofford unveiled its new halfback combo of Joe Stickle and Denny Richardson. The pair brought back shades of last year's Frank DePrete-Pee Wee Greene duo as they ripped of consistent gains.

The contest marked the debut for several Terrier newcomers. Biggest surprises in the Wofford line-up were ends Jim Martin and Don Jones, tackles Melvin Quattlebaum and Don Edwards, guard Don Wilson, center Dick Weber, halfbacks Stickle and Carlton Boyer, and fullback Fisher DeBerry.

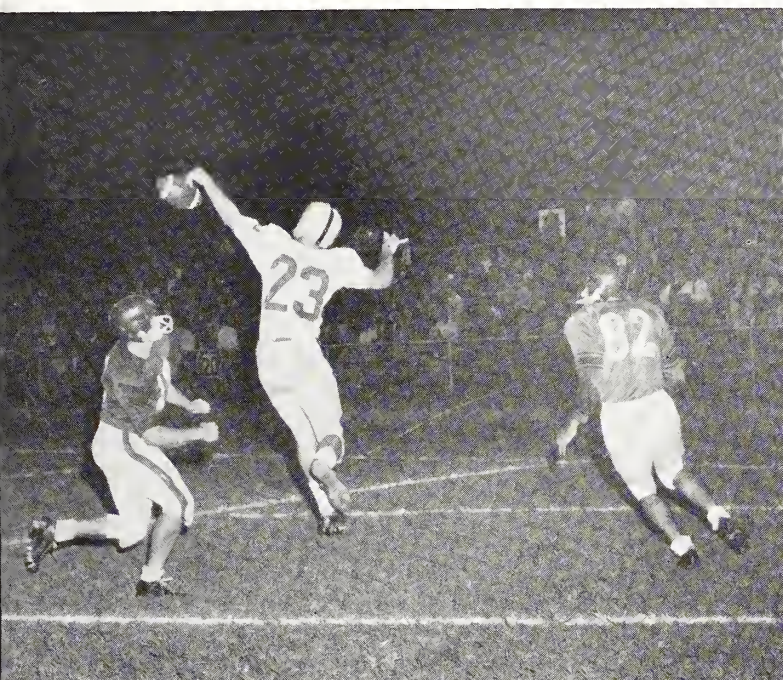

JERRY clears the way as the "Buzzsaw" rips off a gain.

WOFFORD 0 • LENOIR - RHYNE 20

THE FAMILIAR NUMBER 23 breaks up another one.

An aroused den of Lenoir-Rhyne Bears gained sweet revenge by drubbing Wofford 20-0 in their own back yard. A year ago the Terriers broke a 19-game Bear winning streak when they whipped them 13-6.

Triple-threat tailback Billy Ackard and bulldozing fullbacks Lee Farmer and Tommy Simmons were the big offensive guns for Coach Clarence Stasavich's club. Ackard rushed for 51 yards, hit on 7 of 9 passes, and scored his team's first two touchdowns. Farmer, the sophomore successor to the great Harold Bullard, was the leading Bear rusher with 66 yards while Simmons racked up 50 yards on the ground and scored the final six points.

Wofford never mustered a serious scoring threat. The Terrier offense suffered a crucial blow in the first period when their number one halfback, Jackie Drawdy, was forced from the game with a knee injury.

JIM, WALLY, and Joe discourage an ambitious Bear.

THESE ARE SOME of the ones who weren't there.

WOFFORD 22 • ELON 16

A bruised and battered group of Terriers made the long journey to Burlington, N. C., for game number three against Elon's Christians. Injured Charlie Bradshaw and Jerry Richardson were available only for spot performances.

As it turned out spot performances were enough as a pair of Charlie to Jerry "home runs" plus some fancy footwork by newly found star Gary Whitlock and Denny Richardson netted the Terriers a 22-16 win over the North Carolinians.

A blocked punt on the Wofford 20 by Elon tackle J. B. Vaughn gave the home team a first period edge. The Christians' highly touted quarterback, Charlie Maidon, scored the two points to make it 8-0.

The second period was action-packed with Bradshaw hitting Richardson with touchdown heaves of 56 and 61 yards.

Sturdy line play by Don Jones, Jim Dunn, Wally Henderson, and company and a fourth-period twelve-yard touchdown jaunt by little Denny Richardson finally iced it for the Terriers.

SOME OF THE BOYS take a "breather" while Coach Brakefield breathes fire.

"HIT 'EM LOW AND HARD," says a Terrier defender as an ambitious opponent tries to go.

PUTTING in a good word for the Terriers.

WOFFORD 14 • PRESBYTERIAN 18

Presbyterian's Blue Hose became opportunists at Wofford's expense and gained their first victory over the Terriers since 1953 by a score of 18-14.

Wofford, returning to its home field, once again had the full time services of ace quarterback Charlie Bradshaw, but this time the Lake City, Fla., sharpshooter wasn't so sharp as he had two forward passes and one pitch-out intercepted by an alert P. C. defense.

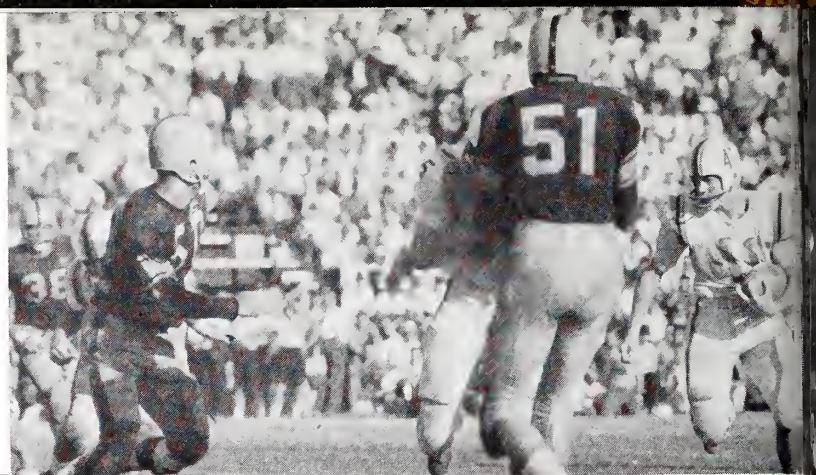

The crucial blow came in the final four minutes when P. C.'s Lucas slipped into the terrier secondary, latched on to a Bradshaw pitch and sprinted 43 yards to score. Up until then the Terriers were clinging to a 14-12 lead.

Wofford scored both its touchdowns in the first half on two-yard plunges by Gary Whitlock and Joe Stickle. Sophomore center Lewis Flint came into his own for the Terriers with a brilliant defensive performance.

THE LITTLE SCOOTER tries to elude two P.C.'uns.

HOLD IT, BUDDY. This is no man's land!

WOFFORD 18 • CITADEL 6

For the fourth straight year the Terriers reigned at Orangeburg, this time throttling The Citadel's bewildered Bulldogs 18-6.

The revenge-minded Cadets were reportedly set for the kill this time, but the old Charlie Bradshaw to Jerry Richardson nemesis plus some fancy footwork by frosh Gary Whitlock combined to make this the brightest spot in a disappointing season.

Charlie 'n' Jerry started the fireworks in the second period when the Little All-American quarterback hit his pal with a 19-yard touchdown pass. Lightning struck again in the final stanza when Whitlock slashed between end and tackle and, with the help of a devastating block by left flankman Jim Martin, romped 59 yards to paydirt. Moments later Bradshaw added the finishing touches with a 48-yard scoring strike to Richardson.

PRESIDENT AND MRS. Marsh admire the coveted Edisto Trophy.

QUATTLEBAUM, Trentini, Martin, and company hold 'em again.

WOFFORD'S leading infantryman is at it again.

THE VERSATILE Mr. Whitlock can catch 'em also.

CHARLIE uncorks another one in a wild and wooly affair.

The state's oldest rivalry between the Baptists and the Methodists was renewed in Furman's Sistine Stadium October 18 and the result was one of the wildest scoring marathons in South Carolina history.

The final and deciding score came in the last three minutes when Hurricane halfback Hickey Horton fought his way to paydirt from 31 yards out. The Terriers, who gained at will all night both on the ground and in the air, took the following kick-off and drove down inside the Furman 10 before the Purples halted the drive on a game-deciding pass interception.

A stout middle line led by Ron DiBuono, Ernie Barefield, Dick Weber, Wally Henderson, and Don Edwards forced the Purples to resort to the air routes and the flanks for most of their yardage.

NOW, BOYS, if you can add you can learn these plays.

EAST TENNESSEE 24

Wofford apparently had its first home victory of the season all stashed away, but, much to the dismay of a bulging Parent's Day crowd, the visiting Buccaneers roared back in the final three minutes to steal a 24-20 decision.

Gary Whitlock ripped into the end zone on a one-yard plunge in the second quarter to give Wofford a 13-12 halftime edge on the Tennesseans. The Gold and Blacks, who were minus the services of their injured aerial artist, Bradshaw, relied heavily on their ground game with sub signal caller Steve Nettles at the helm. Finally midway in the last quarter bruising halfback Joe Stickle got what looked like the big score on a 21-yard jaunt to make the score read: Wofford 20, East Tennessee State 18.

Then came the Buc's last ditch scoring march which paid off in six points and a revenge win for last year's 19-13 defeat by the Terriers.

JUMPIN' JERRY is ready to go, but a pair of Bucs have other ideas.

BIG JOE flies through the air with the greatest of ease and lets the rest of the backs do as they please.

WHY SO DROLL? Could we be losing?

DAVIDSON 21

GO WOFFORD GO! A little louder!

Defeat came in the last fourteen seconds this time. And it came in the form of a field goal booted by a freshman in one of the zaniest finishes ever witnessed in Snyder Field.

Coach Conley Snidow's "almost but not quite" Terriers entered the last period holding a commanding 20-6 lead. Suddenly the Wildcats scored . . . Usher missed the point . . . Wofford led 20-12 . . . The Terriers took over . . . fumbled . . . The Wildcats recovered . . . and scored . . . Usher missed the extra point again . . . Wofford led 20-18 . . . then came an on-sides kick . . . only one in a hundred work . . . this one did . . . Davidson took over with time running out . . . they had run out of time outs and their place kicker was not in the game . . . Wofford called time out to get an injured player off the field . . . Usher rushed into the game for the Wildcats . . . he booted it . . . high and true at an angle from 27 yards out . . . freshman Bruce Usher was the "man of the hour" as Davidson won it 21-20.

STICKLE grits his teeth and tries for that extra burst of speed.

WE LOST the game, but a good time was had by all.

WOFFORD 3 • CATAWBA 14

The Catawba Indians once again defeated their Wofford "cousins" and for the second time in the three years spoiled a Terrier homecoming.

Oddly enough all of the scoring came in the last few minutes of the fourth period. After three and a half quarters of bruising defensive football Jerry Richardson booted his second field goal of the season to give the Terriers what seemed like a deciding three-point advantage.

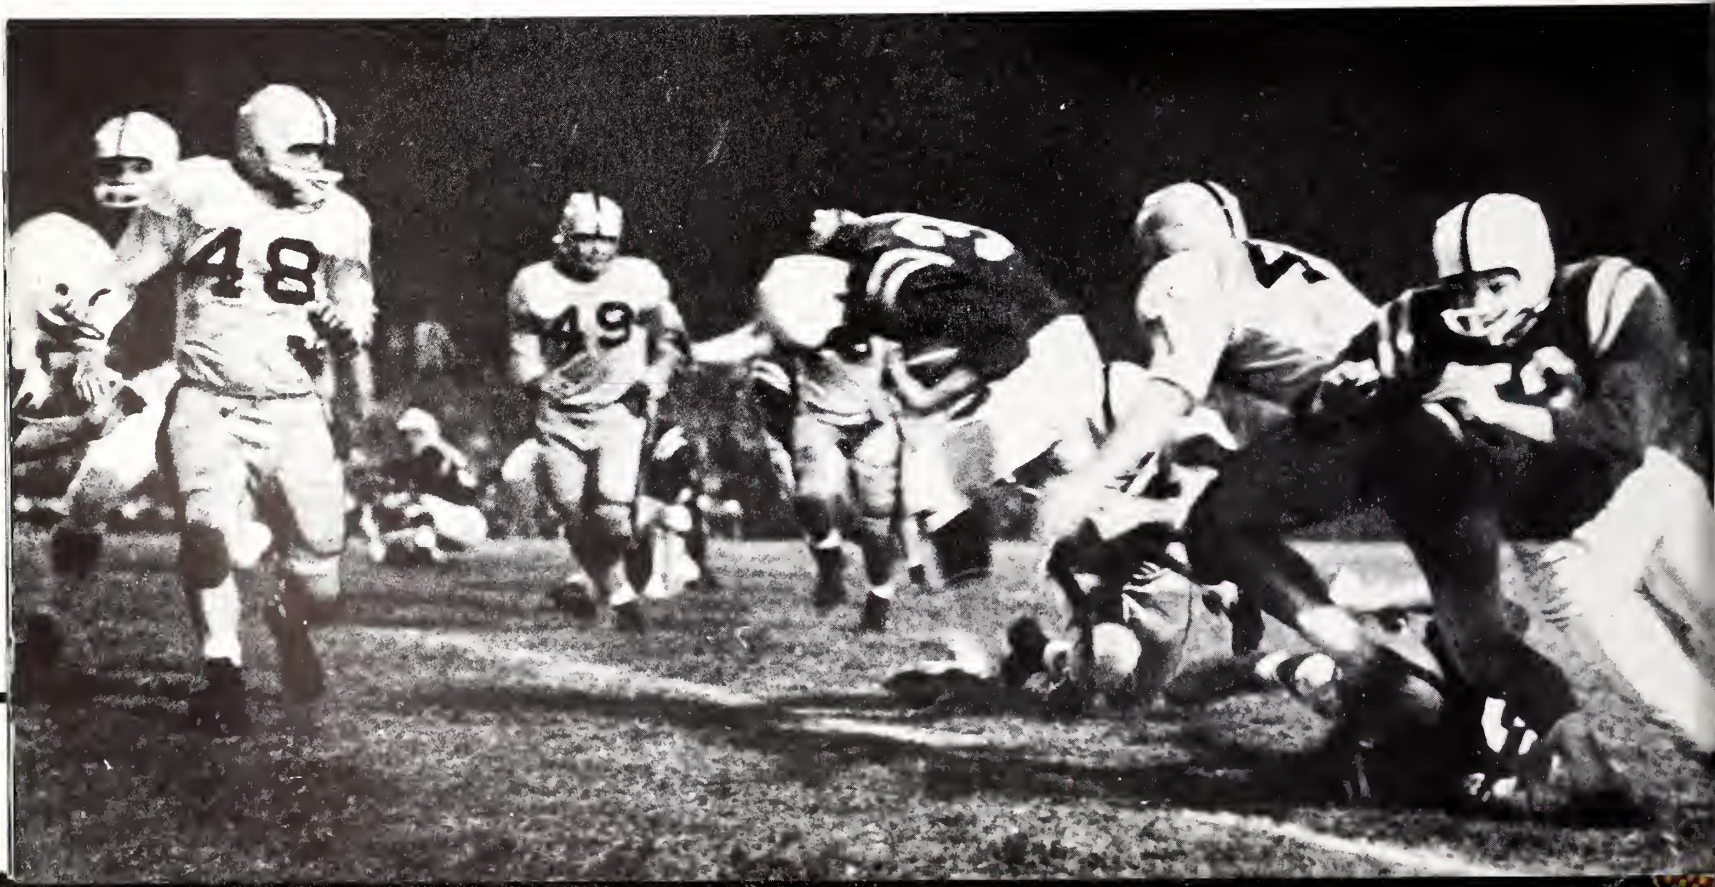

Then the determined Indians forged ahead when quarterback Peacock uncorked a 49-yard touchdown pass to Underwood. Seconds later the visitors made things worse when halfback Ray Oxendine intercepted an "all or nothing" Bradshaw pass and raced it back 55 yards for the final score.

Ron DiBuono, Jim Dunn, and Jim Martin all shone on defense for the Terriers who dropped their fifth consecutive Snyder Field decision.

BRAKEFIELD, Snidow, and jarrin' Jim size up the situation.

AN ENEMY breaks through.

CHARLIE elects to run, but the future looks dim.

WOFFORD 13 • NEWBERRY 21

THREE GENERATIONS of Blacks surround Coach Snidow as they grimly surmise the situation.

A fitting climax was written to a disastrous season at Newberry's Setzler Field. The luckless Terriers needed a win to avoid posting one of the worst won-lost records in the school's history.

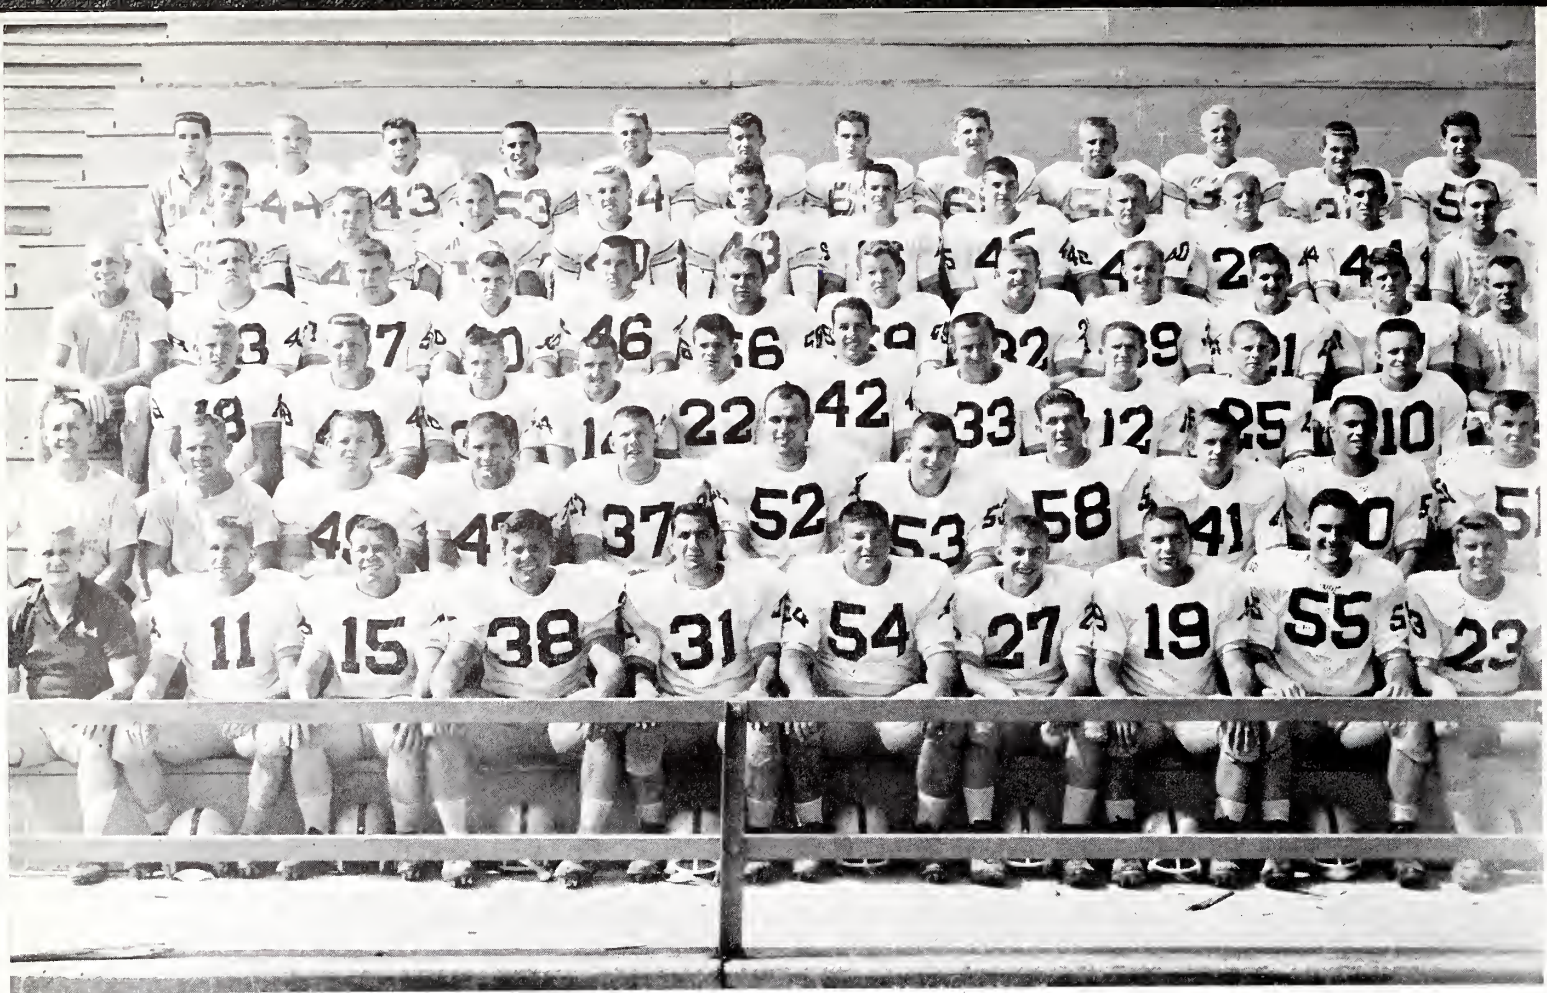

The first half was all Wofford. Gallopin' Gary Whitlock sped 24 yards in the first period for a touchdown and Richardson converted. Then in the second quarter the Bradshaw-Richardson pass combo, that two years before had risen to great heights on the same field, clicked on a 21-yard touchdown play.

Another satisfying sight in the first half was the Terrier defense, which completely stymied the Indian attack. A wrecking crew of Jim Dunn, Jim Martin, Don Edwards, Melvin Quattlebaum, Ron DiBuono, Ernie Barefield, and Dick Weber performed at maximum efficiency.

The second half, however, witnessed another comeback at Wofford's expense. Led by the brilliant play of halfback Wyman Taylor, the Indians scored once in the third period and twice in the fourth.

WHITLOCK tucks it away and sees red.

IN THE SUMMER, before school begins, the Terriers pose for us as they begin to make preparations for the rugged 1958 football season.

IT TAKES MANY men to make a football team.

LITTLE JOHN, the mascot, was on hand to growl at the opposition.

BASEBALL

Baseball, king of the spring sports, is again expected to be a strong point in Wofford's inter-collegiate athletic program.

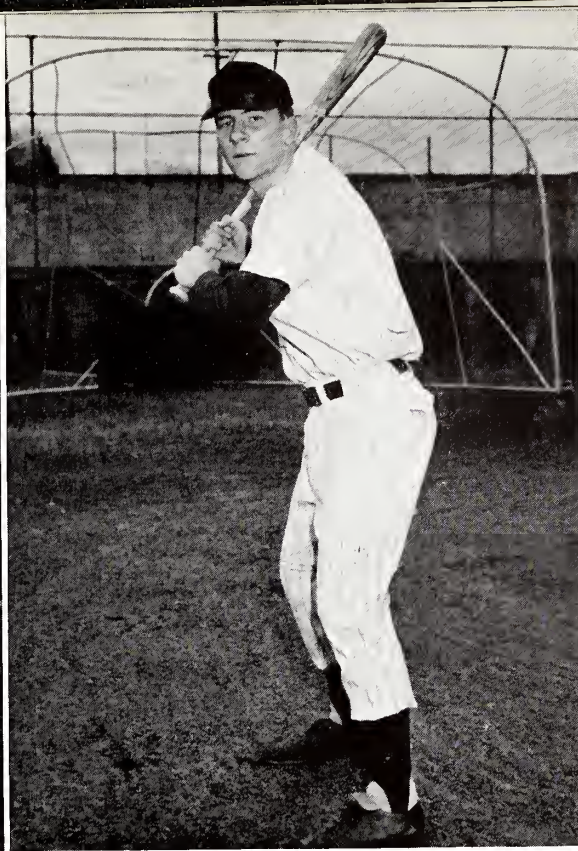

Diamond mentor Jim Brakefield has made winning Terrier baseball teams a tradition. Returning lettermen Don Turner, Fisher DeBerry, Joe Stickle, Bruce Smith, and Jim Shimkus offer a solid nucleus for the 1959 team.

Coach Brakefield's biggest problem will be replacing Delano Hutchinson and Johnny Boozer, a pair of strong-armed righthanders who hurled the 1958 team to the Little Four championship. Boozer, the big fireballer from Lexington, joined the pro ranks last summer when he signed with Philadelphia and Hutchinson left via the graduation route.

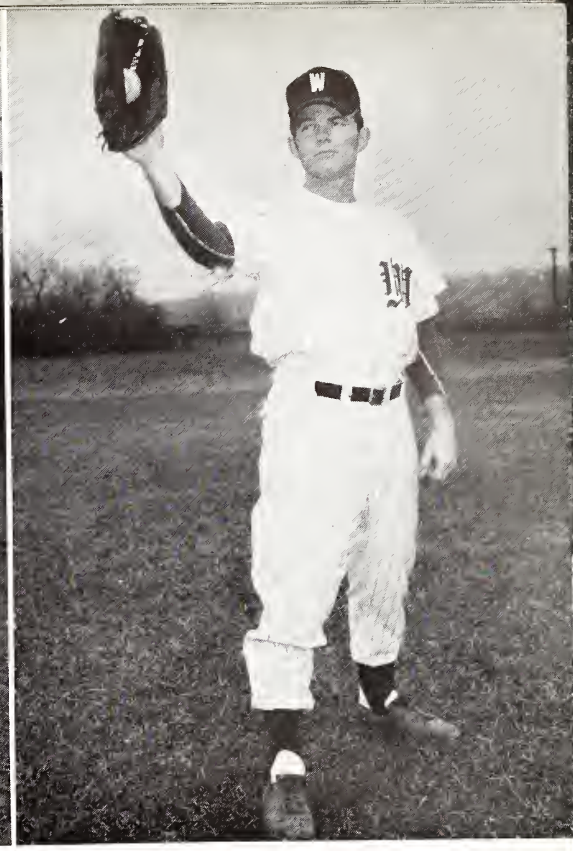

If the usual number of talented frosh turn out for the team and another anchor man can be found for the pitching staff, the scene on Law Field this spring should be a pleasant one.

THE TENNIS TEAM

Wofford's racqueteers posted a winning record in 1958 even though they played a schedule including such respected teams as Presbyterian, Furman, and Davidson.

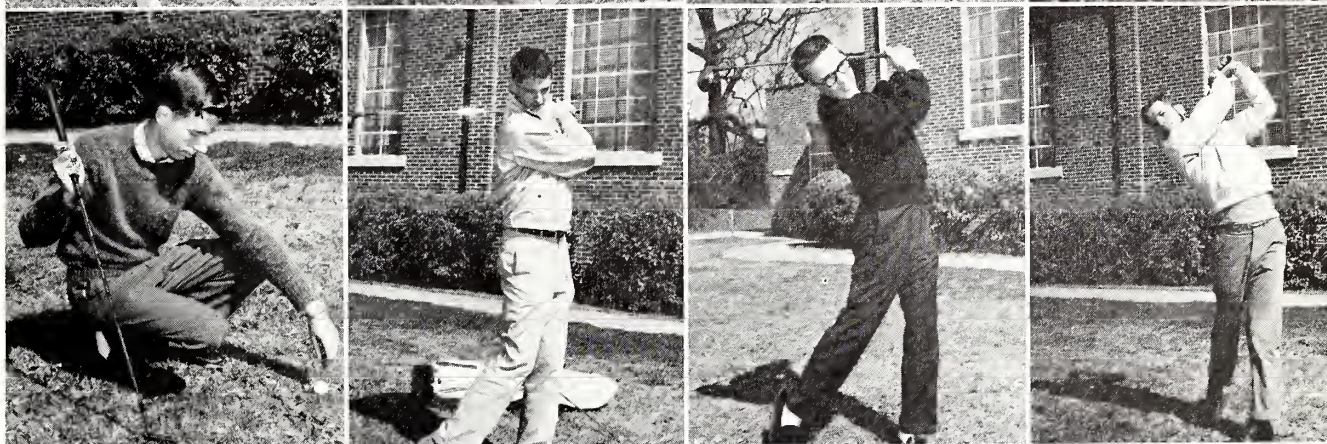

This season the netters, under the direction of newcomer C. W. Branch, should maintain their winning ways with Pete Gerry, Joe Johnson, Alvis Bynum, and Davis Green returning.

Gerry, Johnson, and Bynum earned letters in '58.

The Wofford College golf team came on strong in 1959, meeting such opponents as Presbyterian, Citadel, Belmont Abbey, and Furman.

In 1958 the linkers won the Little Four championship, winning eight of twelve matches. Reddick Still copped the individual championship of the conference.

Although Coach Scheerer lost three men by graduation, returnees Hurst Marshall, Risher Brabham, Jim Ruben, Bill Stokes, and Randy Mahaffey, and newcomers Don Greiner, Bob Dargan, and Pep Dargan more than fill the gaps.

The Acrobatic team of Wofford College is now performing exhibitions for its fourth consecutive year. The team, sponsored by the Department of Physical Education, began functioning in 1955. Since then the team has expanded its facilities and increased the number of exhibitions. This, the fourth year, has been a highly successful one, including performances throughout the state.

The team specializes in various types of equipment. Mats, the springboard, the teeter-board, the mini-tramp, and the trampoline are used. The team is probably best known for its stunts and routines performed on the trampoline.

INTRAMURALS

Under the leadership of Intramural Director William Scheerer and Student Director Bill Brittain, Wofford again sponsored one of the state's most competitive intramural programs.

Teams representing the seven fraternities, the dormitories, and the day students competed in thirteen sports. Each year from the start of the first touch football game until the dramatic finish on the last day of track, competition runs high in this fast moving league.

Last season an unprecedented feat in intramural history took place when Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Kappa Alpha finished in a tie for the All-Year Championship.

Inter-Fraternity Council

The Inter-Fraternity Council is the united voice of the seven fraternities on campus. All matters which concern the fraternities are discussed by the Inter-Fraternity Council. It sets and enforces the rushing rules, approves the second semester weekends for the individual fraternities, and coordinates the activities of the fraternities. The Inter-Fraternity Council acts as a court when a charge is brought against a fraternity.

The Inter-Fraternity Council serves as the connecting link between the administration and the fraternities. One of its chief objectives is to promote and create better relations between the administration and the fraternities.

Each fraternity on campus is represented on the Inter-Fraternity Council by an elected representative and the president of the Fraternity.

Jerry Richardson served as president of the Inter-Fraternity Council this year.

Alpha Sigma Phi

Alpha Sigma Phi was founded at Yale College in New Haven, Connecticut, on December 6, 1845. This year Beta Phi Chapter enjoyed its nineteenth year on the Wofford campus.

The social highlight of the year was the annual Talisman Ball held in the spring. Prior to this the Sigs entertained with small parties and get-togethers.

The activities of the year were many and varied: cheering for a frat brother at a football game, stag parties, those small drop-ins at the house, and the fraternizing at the dances.

This year's pledge class was one of the best in recent years. They came through the pledge training with excellent results. Their addition has strengthened the chapter. We are sure they will be a credit to Alpha Sigma Phi in future years.

Roland Elmore and Albert Wheless served as presidents for the first and second semesters.

Delta Sigma Phi

Delta Sigma Phi was founded at the College of the City of New York on December 10, 1899. Delta Sigma Phi was established on the Wofford campus on April 17, 1916, when Psi chapter was founded.

Since this beginning Psi chapter has grown stronger each year. A successful rush season this year has assured the Delta Sigs of continued strength in coming years.

Members of Psi chapter were active in all phases of college life, all the while seeking to maintain the good scholarship and high ideals which are characteristic of the fraternity.

The highlight of the social events of the year was the annual Sailors' Ball. As usual, it was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

William Simril served as president for the year. Much of the chapter's success this year can be attributed to his leadership and planning.

BOBBY'S sly look indicates that he may have something up his sleeve.

Kappa Alpha

Delta Chapter of Kappa Alpha Order is the oldest social fraternity on the Wofford campus and the third oldest chapter of Kappa Alpha Order in the nation. Delta was founded at Wofford in 1869. Since then it has grown into one of Wofford's foremost fraternities.

This year the KA'S were very active in campus activities and once again claimed their share of the honors. A successful rush season strengthened the Order.

The social highlight of the year was the annual Old South Ball in Columbia with the other Kappa Alpha chapters of South Carolina. Miss Mary Hewitt was chosen Kappa Alpha Rose for this year. The Farmer's Ball climaxed the party season.

Delta was under the capable leadership of Risher Brabham, who served as president this year.

Kappa Sigma

Alpha Nu chapter of Kappa Sigma was established on the Wofford campus in 1894. The fraternity had been founded earlier at the University of Virginia on December 10, 1869.

Presently Kappa Sigma ranks as Wofford's largest fraternity. Its members are active in all phases of campus life and receive their share of the honors and recognition.

The top events for the Kappa Sigs were a very successful rush season and the annual Star Dust Ball. Pledge training was highly successful and climaxed by the annual pledge trips.

Once again Kappa Sigma continued to rank high in scholarship, friendship, and fellowship.

William Bradford and Hunter Stokes served as presidents for the first and second semesters.

Pi Kappa Alpha

Nu chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha is Wofford's most recent fraternity, being established on the campus in 1951 after a long period of inactivity. Since then it has grown into one of the larger fraternities on campus and contributes men to practically all college activities.

This year has been one of particular significance. The house was expanded by the addition of a glassed-in porch. The successful rush season brought new Pikas on the row, men who will maintain the high ideals of the fraternity.

Socially this year has been one of the best for Nu chapter. Drop-ins, parties, and the annual Dream Girl Ball highlighted the year.

The Scabbard and Blade

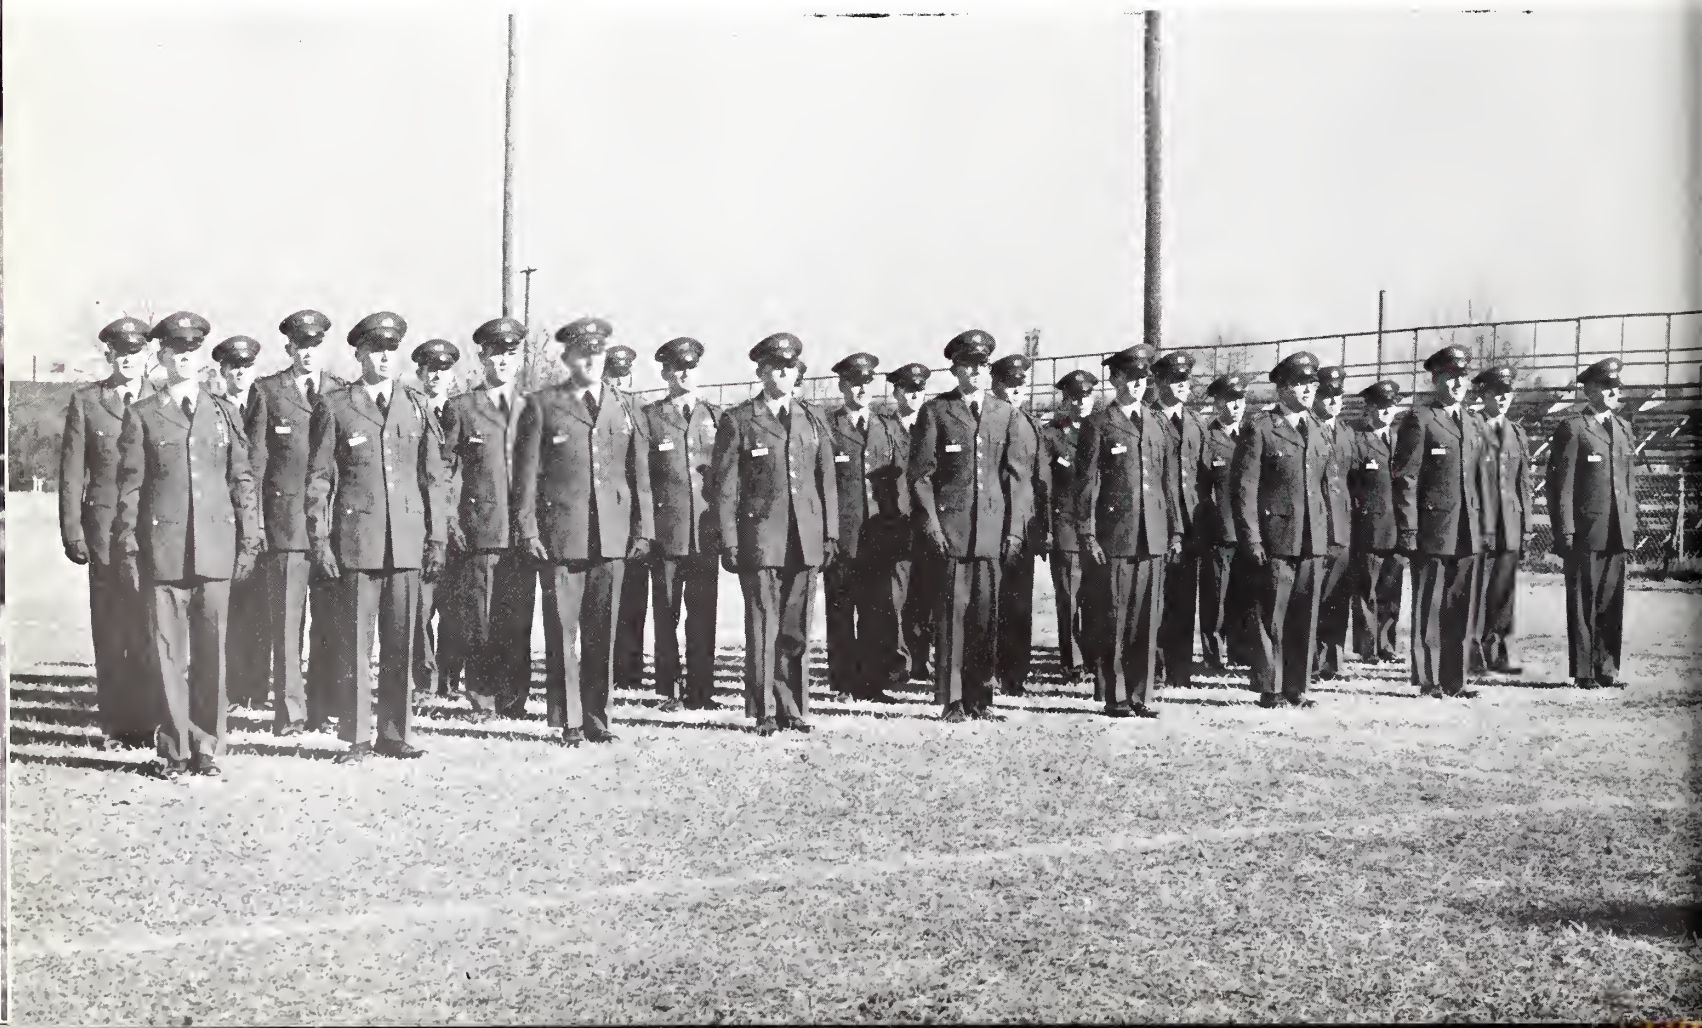

Scabbard and Blade is the national military honor society located in one hundred and thirty colleges and universities which have the reserve officer training program. Scabbard and Blade was organized in 1904 at the University of Wisconsin. Wofford's chapter, "M" Company of the 6th Regiment was chartered in 1928.

Merit is the sole basis for membership in this organization. The cadets elected must possess qualities of leadership, patriotism, and honor. Only junior and senior members of the Reserve Officers Training Corps are eligible for membership.

One of the more important activities of the Scabbard and Blade is sponsoring the annual Military Ball. The music was furnished this year by a well-known group, the Gladiolas, and the entire affair was a tremendous success.

Cadet commanders of the unit first and second semester are Cadet Major Marshall Perkins and Cadet Colonel Ronald Metcalf, respectively.

THE OUTSTANDING MOVEMENTS of this keen group is the result of long and delicate practice. As in the past, this year's participation has been outstanding. Each military student participating should be highly commended. This year's team was under the capable leadership of Cadet Major Kenneth Campbell.

the seniors

Four years have fled by since we came upon the Wofford scene—four years that perhaps have sometimes seemed long and unendurable, but now seem all too short and quick to end.

We have grown and matured in these short years. We have learned at least a portion of the knowledge our teachers have sought to impart. We have enjoyed the companionship of other young men of like mind and spirit.

Not only have we changed in these four years, but Wofford, too. Our student government has been given greater responsibility; our academic welfare has been bettered by an expanded faculty; and our social life has been improved by the construction of fraternity lodges. Wofford has begun progress toward obtaining a better physical plant during our stay as well as endeavoring to improve her intellectual and social offerings.

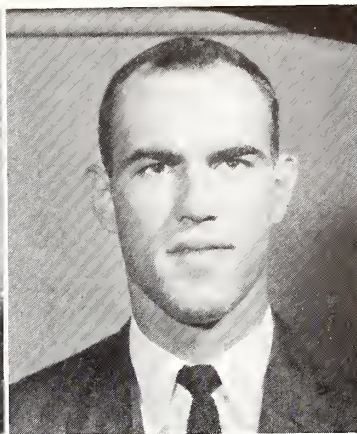

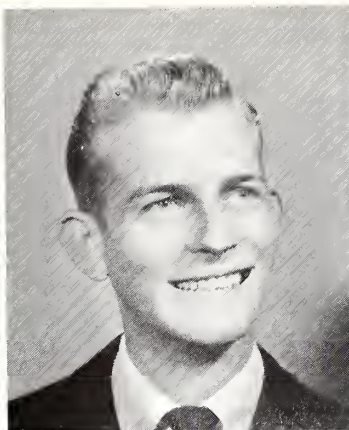

It is with the mixed emotions of regretful sadness and hopeful joy that we prepare to leave this our home for these four years. While our physical ties soon will be severed, the lessons we have learned, the friendships we have made, and the happiness we have known will live on forever.

As the class of '60 prepares for its winter season it can look back on a most successful fall season. From the start of school many of the members of the class have shown up well in their studies as well as their extra-curricular activities. Members of our class played leading roles on all school athletic teams. Officers of the Junior class worked constantly during the year for better student government. Several members of our class have been accepted by dental and medical schools. We will miss these boys, but feel they will do our class credit as they go on in their particular fields. We now have only one more year and the class of '60 will be a thing of the past, but we are all going to make our last year one never to forget.

The class of '61 has reached the mid-point of a college career. As sophomores they watched with special horror as rigor mortis set in on the dearly loved institution of "ratting." Having served their time as rats last year, they returned to school with mischievous gleams in their eyes—a mark of all sophomores.

Aside from the "task" of the class in shaping the characters of the freshmen into Wofford gentlemen, they began taking their places in campus organizations and preparing themselves to become the future leaders of Wofford.

DEDICATION of the new altar Cross and candle holders.

ENTERING the campus, here is what we see.

"HOFFY" at work.

THE DAY the general came.

HOORAY! I got one!

DR. JONES has been a bad boy.

On a very hot Sunday afternoon last September, a confused and bewildered group of freshmen left for Camp Skyuka, high in the North Carolina mountains.

We spent three days of swimming, tennis, softball, and learning how to become a "Wally Wofford."

During the next six weeks we discovered dances at "the Verse," "the rock," drill, "Old Main-1854," Rat J. Stokes, Sir, analytic, neckties at supper, dozens of themes, "Hey RAT!", C², football games, rat races, and "Mrs. H."

The middle of October found Carlisle Hall plastered with campaign posters and twenty-six freshmen politicians running for five offices. It was a relief to all when elections were finally over.

Rush was a strange new word to most of us, but it proved to be a wonderful two weeks of dances, free cokes, cigarettes and food, girls from everywhere, and upperclassmen "friends" galore. A great number of us pledged the night before Thanksgiving holidays.

Shortly after the Christmas vacation, we found ourselves facing exams. This was when we learned the difference between high school exams and college exams.

When this trying ordeal ended we started second semester, many of us with two letters behind our name—A.P. Of course there was the select few of us making the Dean's List.

Sad moments and happy moments all make up the warm memories of our class, one of which we are very proud—the class of '62.
